Positive Approach® to Care

Today's Voice for Dementia, Teepa Snow, is one of the world's leading advocates and educators for anyone living with dementia. Teepa's philosophy is reflective of her education, work experience, medical research, and first hand caregiving experiences. Her advocacy efforts led her to the development of the GEMS® dementia classification model and the Positive Approach® to Care training strategies. An Occupational Therapist by trade, she graduated from Duke University and has a MS degree from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

Until There's a Cure, There's Care!™

Activities and Programming for Men

This session is designed to help caregivers and family members provide the type of activities which appeal to men. There will be a discussion of categories of activities to be provided on a regular basis to ensure that life is filled with value and meaning. The importance of exploring the person's history and preferences for engagement will be discussed. Progression of dementia will then be reviewed as it relates to need to modify activities for success. Common activities that are typically effective for men will be provided. Finally, strategies to promote engagement will be demonstrated and discussed.

Developing Activities that have Meaning and Work

This workshop will help activity providers and direct caregivers develop and offer activity programs that are appropriate and effective when residents have various degrees of cognitive impairment. The session will help the learners to better understand activities regarding their skill demands and value for the person. The session will be very interactive and will build observation skills, hands-on helping skills, and ability to use simple, inexpensive tasks and materials to help residents feel productive and involved.

Promoting Wellness and Well-Being After the Diagnosis

This session is designed to help professionals provide support and guidance after a 'diagnosis' of dementia has been made. The importance of encouraging both the person with dementia and their care partners to learn more about themselves and each other so that they can continue to find value, enjoyment, and fulfillment will be a key focus of this session.
