Indoor Gardening

As the seasons change and temperatures make it difficult for residents to spend time outdoors, we are met with the challenge of how to continue connecting with nature. Many residents relish outdoor gardening activities and become saddened when winter arrives believing that will have to wait until spring to continue with their favorite hobby. This is certainly not so! This session will provide you with numerous ideas to allow your residents to enjoy gardening all year round.

You don't need to be a musician! Techniques and strategies for the non-musical

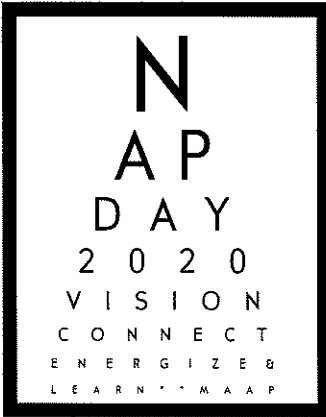

Why was the opera "The Barber of Seville" so unlucky? How do Jerry Lewis and youtube connect? Have you ever tried drum painting? Come and find how to use these and other tips and techniques to incorporate music in a deeper way in your programming across populations.

The Artistic Eye

Yes, we all have one. Join us for a hands on art experience, using manageable choices and failure free activities — which you will be able to share with your residents, allowing them to become active in their own creative process.
